Magnificent March Minds!

This month marched by so quickly. We have been very engrossed in various interesting topics of study. The thoughts of Anne Frank continue to amuse and intrigue us. We are now learning about the political events that she wrote about in her diary. We continue to prepare for our Confirmation and (Hurray!) are learning about interjections in English class. Atomic theory is what we are researching for our reports and solving inequalities is our challenge in math. We each chose an inspirational African American citizen and shared with the class their accomplishments and why we admire them. We are now looking forward to making Power Point presentations about WWII. As the trimester comes to a close, we look forward to much learning and the many special events ahead!
